

Resiliency

has been defined as the process of, capacity for, or outcomes of successful adaptation, despite challenging or threatening circumstances.

1. good outcomes, despite high-risk status;
2. sustained competence under threat; and
3. recovery from trauma.