

Reasonable Efforts

When making reasonable efforts the child's health and safety shall be of paramount concern.

Reasonable Efforts must be made:

“To make it possible for a child to safely return to the child's home”

Reasonable Efforts do NOT need to be made:

“The parent has subjected the child to aggravated circumstances as defined by state law and the court orders that efforts do not need to be made”