

Interviewing the Nonmaltreating Parent/Caretaker

The primary purposes of interviewing the nonmaltreating parent/caretaker are to:

- find out what this caretaker knows about the alleged maltreatment;
- gather information related to risk of maltreatment; and
- determine their capacity to protect the child(ren), if indicated.

