Dear Integrating Concurrent Planning into Child Welfare Practice Participant:

Thank you for registering for the 209: Integrating Concurrent Planning into Child Welfare Practice training. The Pennsylvania Child Welfare Training Program does not believe that training is a “stand-alone” event. Research shows that activities completed before, during, and after training can help a participant better understand the content of the training and later apply it on the job.

Therefore, in order to prepare for this training about Concurrent Planning, please take a few minutes prior to the training day to review and complete the three activities outlined in the enclosed handout titled, Pre-work. Please document the results of your pre-work very briefly on the handout and then bring it with you to the training session.

Thank you again for registering for this class. We appreciate your support of the Pennsylvania Child Welfare Training Program.

Sincerely,
Training Program Staff
