

Web Resource List

In case you missed them, below you will find a list of resources mentioned throughout the curriculum as well as some the trainer might not have had time to mention. We hope that the resources prove useful in working with children and their families that face substance use/abuse concerns. Please keep in mind however, that no matter how many resources such as these and the information from the session that you come across, you, your Child Welfare and related Professional, and the family are the best resources to ensuring the safety, permanency, and well-being of the children with whom you work.
