

AGENDA

INTRODUCTION AND OPENING ACTIVITIES

SPINA BIFIDA/MYELOMENINGOCELE

Pathophysiology
Clinical Manifestations
Therapeutic Management
Family Teaching
Home Care

HYDROCEPHALUS

Pathophysiology
Clinical Manifestations
Therapeutic Management
Family Teaching
Home Care

EVALUATION AND CLOSURE

Transfer of Learning Activity

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Define conditions leading to a disturbance in the central nervous system.
- Identify those infants who are at greatest risk for developing neurological problems.
- Understand the physiology of various neurological conditions.
- List appropriate interventions for the care of infants with a disturbance in the central nervous system.
- Understand the home care involved with infants who have a disturbance in the central nervous system.
- List current management for the care of infants who are experiencing central nervous system dysfunction.

COMPETENCY

316-1 The Child Welfare Professional knows health and medical conditions which can affect the well being of children and families or which can contribute to or result form child abuse/neglect.