

"What Do I Know....." Part 1

3. Which of the following could be considered stereotypes:

- Middle class families only care about making money and collecting possessions.
- Asians are docile, polite, easygoing people who demonstrate strong respect for others.
- The homeless are drifters who prefer to live on the streets.
- Black and Hispanic people are more likely to be on welfare than are White people.
- Sibling incest is common among Appalachian families.