

visitation

- Single most important factor in maintaining the relationship between the child and the parents
- Enhances the child's emotional well-being
- Improve parent's positive feelings about the placement
- Decreases parent's worries about their children
- Associated with achieving permanency and decreasing time in care