

Risk Assessment

Is used to describe a process in which the Child Protective Services worker determines whether or not a child is safe and unlikely to be harmed, abused or neglected in the near future.